Presumably the Company has been undertaking business from the 1st January although no response to the Shanghai applications for shares has so far been vouchsafed. The question naturally suggesta itself.—In the event of a heavy loss or losses being sustained, would the applicants be bound to stand by their applications! and also, who are the parties responsible to the policy holders?

The payment of a deposit of $10 per the fruitful source of all this mischief, share on application must have placed a large sum of money at the disposal of the General Agents (it is rumoured that this money is being used, but I presume that must be incorrect) and disappointment will the better. Of the large number of hands on board, twenty-six including officers, four men were allowed to take charge of the ship, running amuck in their mad fury and doing as they pleased. As an excuse for the officers and the remainder of the crew, it was pleaded that the officers were looking to the safe mooring of the vessel under the directions of a pilot, and the rest of the men were also drunk, and although not absolutely mutinous like the men who have now been sent to prison. they were only able to make a feeble and imbecile attempt to control them in their madness. It might also be pleaded that the liquor, which had come on board unknown to the officers, had taken rapid effect on the men with no premonitory signs exhibiting themselves,; and as the whole affair had necessarily only occupied but a few minutes, the true state of matters had scarcely made themselves apparent to the officers, whose attention must have been more earnestly absorbed in their duties as the men began to tumble was said to have done. How is this to be prevented in future? What steps are to be taken to pro-Police Department is held responsible for the due apprehension of who violate the law, and it is to them wo pression of the illegal traffic in spirituous ignor in this otherwise well-regulated harbour. Some years ago a crusade was instituted by the Water Police against this traffic, and by the most vigorous prosecution of offenders it was almost completely stamped out. European constables were armed with a kind of roving commission amongst the shipping, and they dropped in upon the illicit dealers unawares and effected their capture. Of course the smugglers soon became acquainted with the officers who were watching thom, and on their approach their cargoes of vila liquors were thrown overboard. But in those days things were administered with a vigorous hand, and their efforts to escape in this wise were of no avail. Bottles were fished up, and a proof that they had been thrown overboard from a boat on the approach of the police secured a conviction. Now however things are difby lukongs, who row carefully up and down the harbour close to the Praya Wall, and seldom or ever venture amongst the shipping except when the signal is hoisted to intimate that their services are wanted, and even when a capture is effected, no matter what quantity of spurious liquids may be found on board, no conviction follows unless a sale can be proved. This may be strictly within the legal terms and definitions of the Ordinance, but stronger measures than this allows are requisite to deal with the evil. Bumboats are and the very possession of such stuffs on board one of these craft should be held to be a crime and within the scope of the law. If this is not so, the sooner it is done a less desirable investment, with, it may be, lance; in the other the crews are often largely composed of natives or other Uriantals, and they are so frequently in harbour that the local dodges are thoroughly understood and can be guarded against. But it is in the case of merchant vessels coming in here after a long voyage, with mixed nationalities in their crews, and those mural standard, that the harbour harpies reap their harvest. Captains of such vessels, especially coming here for the the evil, inasmuch as they know not of it; and besides, their crews, picked up frequently at haphazard at the commencement

An ascent in a balloon was made from Bath by Captain prisoners, but latterly decided to remand Templer, R.E., Mr Powell, M.P., and Mr Gardener. The balloon touched near Bridport, and only about one hundred and fifty yards from the sea cliff. Captain Templer rolled out of the balloon, which relieved of his weight began to rise; Mr Gardener leaped out and broke his leg. The balloon then rose to such a height that all chance of escape for Mr Powell was cut off, and he was swopt rapidly out to sea. Nothing has since been heard of the unfortunate gentlemen, and in all probability nothing ever will. Acromatics is and ever will be a dangerous hobby, and it is astonishing how people go on risking life and limb where everything is to be lost and nothing gained.

Yet another meeting to protest against the enforced opium trade with China has been held at Sheffield, when the usual time-honoured platitudes about the poor suffering heathen, and the iniquity of the traffic were indulged in ... When will these good people begin to think of taking the beam out of their own eye before they commence operations on the visual organs of other people? Why don't they ask the English Government to forego the revenue derived from the drink traffic at home, and suppress a trade which is as iniquitous, if not more so, than that in opinm, and touches them a great deal more closely.

The same mournful story of outrages and general discontent still comes from Iroland. Placards have been posted adjuring the tenantry to fly the Land Court, as being a sham and a fraud. The tenant Hospital. Admittance wasgained the second who honestly pays his rent in some of the districts of Ireland has a busy time of it between verbal threats, anonymous letters, and the more convincing argument of powder and lead. Hunting has become even a more lively amusement than it usually is, as the sport is now varied by crowds of people stoning the hounds and otherwise conducting themselves in a mannor not at all conducive to the enjoyment of huntsmen.

Pun Amui, compradore, belonging to Canton, was charged on Monday with being in possession of prepared opium without a permit from the Opium Farmer. On Monday evidence was given as to the finding of a large quantity of prepared opium in the house No. 15, Stanley Street, the defendant being the proprietor. He produced a permit for a portion of the opium, but some of it being proved to be eight or nine years old, no permit could have been procured for it as the Opium Farmer did not have the monopoly at that time, and as he had failed to inform the Opium Farmer of having it in his possession since, an offence was proved. The case was remanded till to-day to allow the defendant to procure a permit, as he said he had forgot about its being on his premises. The Opium Farmer, however, would not grant the permit at this late date, as the rules would be infringed by doing so. The defendant should have applied for a permit when the notice was issued. He was fined $10 or two days' imprisonment—the opium to be confiscated.

His wife, who was present, with a child on her back, attempted to separate them, but the second defendant knocked her down, thus causing her to fall backwards, with the child below her. The defendants seeing they had injured the child became frightened and rushed off. He was considerably pained, although there were no marks of bruises on his body. The child got a little better, but two days afterwards they asked for its admittance into the Tung Wah Hospital, which was refused, because the Hospital attendants said they would require to report it, They took the child back, but it continued to get werse and the next day the parents again took the child to the both for the child and the complainant's wife, she wishing to nurse the child, which gradually grew worse and died

DELAY OF THE ENGLISH MAIL

(Japan Gazette, Jan. 10.) The arrival by the M. M. steamer Volga of a portion only of the English mail of Nov. 19 gave rise to many complaints, and a contemporary passed some rather harsh strictures upon the Post Office in Hongkong, and upon the Postmaster General of the colony for the apparent negligence involved in keeping back the other portion of the mail in Hongkong. Knowing that some explanation would probably be forthcoming. and also that the Volga left Hongkong on Sunday, which was also Christmas day, a circumstance in itself sufficient to account for a scoming irregularity, we avoided reference to the matter. To-day we have received the following letter with a request to make it public, which we do with pleasure, because it satisfactorily explains the delay, and absolves the Hongkong Post Office from all blame in the matter. Mr Lister's letter was written on the 26th, so that no time was permitted to

GENERAL POST OFFLOR Hongkong, Dec. 26th, 1881. Sir.-You will doubtless have observed that by the Volga, which luft this port for Yokohama yesterday, your office received a portion of the English mail arriving here on the 25th instant, not including, however, any newspapers from England, The reason of this is that the Venetia with the English mail entered this harbour just as the Volga was preparing to quit it There was barely time to transfer the closed mails for Yokohama from one steamer to the other, and of course this precluded the sending on of any correspondence which required sorting, nor could the newspaper bags for Yokohama be found without opening all those addressed to Hongkong, in which they are enclosed It was quite impossible to forward any correspondence for Hiogo. I shall be obliged if you will publish this letter in Yokohama and Hiogo should you see no objection to such a course.

I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant, (Signed) Alfred Lister. Postmaster-General. FHE POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on Thina and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication mimilar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

THE CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octave pages, occasionally llustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents.

in Hongkong half-yearly in advance. The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipolego and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese, are admissible. Endeavours. are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department. Notes and Replies are classified together as " Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compute for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty paged, bi-monthly, repertory of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the lieview. Address China Review, Hongkong.-Northern Ohristian Advocate (U.S.) Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review :- " This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the estinction of which useful serial a year or two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in-India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such chaunel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high dogree of Chinese scholarship is now arsiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the lieview by papers, highly creditable to their respective authors. In a paper on Dr. Legge's She King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connexion with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese post-statesman of the eleventh century, Sn Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.

This paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to Coast ports. is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guaranters and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing. The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan,from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented the Chinese, - consider themselves justified in guaranteeing an ultimate oirculation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find It to their interest to avail themselves of them. "Ite field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in toneis almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Uniness belief and interest while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners, Like English journals it contains Editorials, with Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements.
